

10 Nobel Prize Winners are demanding the immediate freedom of the Cuban Five

Un día mi camisa de preso se quedará ahí colgada GUERREO

One day my prisoner shirt will stay behind hanging

José Ramos-Horta, Pres. of E. Timor, 1996 Nobel Peace Prize
Rigoberta Menchú, 1992 Nobel Peace Prize
Adolfo Pérez Esquivel, 1980 Nobel Peace Prize
Máiread Corrigan Maguire, 1976 Nobel Peace Prize
Günter Grass, 1999 Nobel Prize in Literature
José Saramago, 1998 Nobel Prize in Literature
Darío Fo, 1997 Nobel Prize in Literature
Nadine Gordimer, 1991 Nobel Prize in Literature
Wole Soyinka, 1986 Nobel Prize in Literature
Zhores Alferov, 2000 Nobel Prize in Physics

From: _____

Stamp

FREE THE CUBAN FIVE POLITICAL PRISONERS FROM US PRISONS

Dear President Obama,

Since 1998, five innocent men, who harmed no one, have been languishing in US prisons for defending their country, Cuba, against terrorism.

With one stroke of the pen, you can send them home to their loved ones.

To:

President Barack Obama
The White House
1600 Pennsylvania Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20500
United States